What's This Consultation All About?

Someone said, "Leadership is the answer, leadership is the problem." This is true for a church as much as it is for a business organization.

The diligent hands bring wealth. Proverbs 9:4b

Leaders are meant to lead. Leading involves a grasp of the big picture. Too often leaders are so much at the coal face that they can't see past the trees to the woods.

Steven's consulting model works on a new approach to help leaders understand their process and outcome. His extensive training and background lends itself to assisting churches, organizations and individuals in bringing clarity of focus and mission to the enterprise.

Since entering full-time ministry, Steven has been involved in a number of consultations with pastors, business leaders and professional individuals. He spoke into their personal lives as well, helping each to also understand their inflection points in life and consequently moving them forward to the next level.

He is currently in active consultation with churches, Community Groups and business organizations in Australia, NZ, Malaysia and Singapore

For Whom

This consultancy service is ideal for pastors, business leaders and professionals who are bogged down and seemingly hitting the glass ceiling.

Let me help you crystallize your vision and bring clarity for you as to what your next steps are.
