Discover the proven principles of powerful leadership

What's This Workshop All About?

Leadership is a gift. It is perhaps the most important of other gifts. People with the gift of leadership are uniquely equipped to come up with strategies and structures that provide opportunities for other people to use their gifts effectively.

Paul the Apostle told us in Romans 12:8 that leaders should "lead with diligence". Why is this so? Because people who look to leaders will either flourish or falter largely on the basis of how leaders lead.

Leadership entails responsibility. You and I as leaders will be held accountable. It is a serious matter. Jesus used a hyperbole to illustrate the seriousness of leadership and its influence on others. He said a severe and extreme form of suicide (tying millstones round the neck and then jumping into the sea to drown) is the better option that to offend one of "these little ones"!

"He made known His ways to Moses; his deeds to the people of Israel." Psalm 103:7

Vision is the art of seeing things invisible

Leaders are meant to serve. The mark of true leadership is the ability to serve. When one forgets how it feels to serve, one will develop a sense of entitlement and become dictatorial and overbearing.

Too many people confuse expertise with leadership. You can hire experts. What is leadership then?

Leadership takes people boldly into the future. Managers plan, organize, execute, control and sometime create. Leaders do this and more. Leaders foresee the future of their lives and organizations. They lead the changes required to become the future person or organization.

For Whom

This workshop will serve as an inspiration and practical guide for leaders to discover insights into what exemplary leadership is all about. What do successful leaders do?

It will also provide an interesting look at the biblical perspective of leadership in our contemporary world.
